

Neuro-Training with Kinesiology

certificate of solution oriented neuro-training

incorporating certificate IV in kinesiology

COURSE STRUCTURE

Specialisation Modules

The course is a dual certificated course in Neuro-Training and Kinesiology. The course has 23 days (9am to 5pm) of Specialisation Modules. Training is in workshop format and includes theory, practical sessions, manuals and a certificate of completion for each module. All days are 9am to 5pm unless otherwise stated.

Assessments and Assignments

With each of the first 5 modules there are assessments and assignments (workbooks). Approximately 25 hours per module.

COURSE ACCREDITATION

AKA Accreditation

The Certificate of Solution Oriented Kinesiology is accredited by the Australian Kinesiology Association (AKA) AKA web site: www.akakinesiology.org.au

Government Recognition

In 2007 Kinesiology was included in the Government Health Training Package and is now a Nationally recognised Government qualification. Neuro-Training Pty Ltd expects to have this course Govt. accredited late 2008.

COMMON UNITS

Included in the Government recognised Certificate IV of Kinesiology qualification are Common Units. These are "common units" in that they are common to most alternative therapies under the Government Health Training Package. Most of these common units are included in the subjects Anatomy and Physiology, Practice Management, and First Aid, as delivered by many Colleges. Contact Valerie for more details.

PERSONAL INTEREST

The first 5 modules of the practitioner course are available to anyone who would like to do this training for personal interest. The modules are the same as for the Practitioner course but without assessments and assignments.

CHANGE TO PRACTITIONER STUDY

There is always the option to change to practitioner training by completing the assessment and assignments and the remaining modules and common units.
